Miss French Cakes "Miss French Cakes" is a 1934 short animated film produced by Walt Disney, a part of the Mickey Mouse animated film series. It was directed by Burt Gillett and features Mickey Mouse, Minnie Mouse, Donald Duck, and Goofy, with live-action sequences by Deane Taylor and Billy Bletcher. The short premiered at the 1934 New York World's Fair and was awarded a Gold Medal for Best Animated Short at the 9th Academy Awards in 1935. The title card is said to be Mickey's idea based on a card game played in his grandfather's garage. It was the first Disney film to include Donald. The short is one of Walt Disney's earliest short films to feature Minnie Mouse. Production background The film was originally called Miss French Cakes and Miss French Men. It was initially going to be a train trip film like the 1931 short film One Hour in Wonderland. According to Disney archivist Dave Smith, the title was changed from Miss French Cakes due to a dispute over the nationality of one of the characters. The directors wanted Minnie to be a foreigner, so they took over her voice for the film. Her line for "What's your name" was "What's your name?" In the finished film, Minnie's dialogue is softer and more breathy. Minnie's first appearance was in the first film in the series, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, but her first line was "Dainty and dainty dumpling, want some tea? I'll make it with cake." Voice cast Minnie Mouse: Mary Philpot, who also voiced Cinderella in the feature film Cinderella (1956) and Wendy in Peter Pan (1953) Daisy Duck: Dorene Dodie Mumble as Don Stick Dog: Jan Hubbell Anon: unknown Reception "Miss French Cakes" was released on April 13, 1934, and made its debut at the New York World's Fair on May 23, 1934. The film was made by Walt Disney's small studio called Laugh-O-Gram Studios, and was shown as is the last DLC for this game, granting you over... NARUTO SHIPPUDEN: Ultimate Ninja STORM Revolution - DLC9 Variety Pack 3 is the last DLC for this game, granting you over 2 and a half hours of content. It contains Naruto: Ultimate Ninja STORM - The Storm 2 and 3, as well as the Gundam Unico. Overall, it adds up to roughly 50 missions plus a few extra. There are three new user stories to enjoy and even if some are shorter, they're still very enjoyable. All the new missions in the game are available to play in a custom scenario mode and unlock new content. The New Game+ mode for those who want to quickly enjoy the previous game modes, and the professional one which rewards lots of extra items. It's another great pack in the best Naruto game to date. Naruto: Ultimate Ninja STORM is the best Naruto game ever made. It's a great anime adaptation of the popular manga series that was very well received by the gaming community. It offers a great variety of gameplay modes, full voice acting for the many characters, tons of activities and missions, as well as any crazy plot we've seen in any of the anime adaptations. If there was anything that the Japanese creative team could have done better when developing this game was the concept of time travel and for it to have been expanded more than the current campaign does.
