Marcellini Sbordone analisi matematica luciano lucontonio 2.Firefox Firefox has a long history of being the most innovative browser, but the recent releases, M10 and M12, have raised doubts among some users about its change of direction. So, which version of Firefox should you choose if you want the browser that introduced the "Awesome bar" back in 2007? Firefox is now used by more than 20 million people around the world, and its latest version (M12) has made some improvements that might increase the number of users for this web browser to even higher levels. Here are four reasons to consider Firefox for your browsing needs: 1. Better HTML5 standards support Mozilla has greatly improved HTML5 support in Firefox M12, and now the browser has better support for such features as: Document object model (DOM) Audio and video support Add-ons 2. Touch and multitouch interfaces Mozilla has added support for multi-touch interfaces in Firefox 12.1, which makes it easier to interact with web content in this browser. The latest version of Firefox is also fully-compatible with Microsoft's Windows 10 operating system, as well as with Android 4.4.2 and newer versions. For all of these reasons, users with devices such as tablets and touchscreens should consider Firefox as an easy-to-use web browser. 3. Faster in Javascript
