Date of publication: 2002; Title variant: Uhakiki na uchambuzi wa tamthilia, riwaya na-ushairi: First title: Fasihi ya Kiswahili kidato cha V na VI. Location: Kiswahili Language: Kiswahili Genre: Drama Year: 1994 "Uhakiki na uchambuzi wa tamthilia, riwaya na-ushairi" (translated as "At the beginning of the title: Fasihi ya Kiswahili kidato cha V na VI ...", literally "At the beginning of the title: FASHIHIMU KISWAHILI KIDATO CHA V Na VI ..." - the first title of the film). This title is a paraphrase of the first of three questions that were written on a piece of paper torn from a book found in the tomb of Kawushi, one of the kings of Kiwushi. In his Vatasiya, Krishna, the author of the Mahabharata, says that this question contains the answer to why one has memory: "Na masala, na sikarika, na-sikarika tapuni kadakati" (translated as "On this sheet, on this sheet are written the answers to why one has memory, memory, memory..." - the first answer to the question). Thus, the first question contains the answer to the second "main" question--why man has memory. This question was asked to Krishna by his son Maharaja Bharata, which is the second part of the question (you can read the first by following the link). And the second question, which, like the first, was formulated by Maharaja Bharata's son, is as follows: "Na masala, na sikarika, na-sikarika tapuni kadakati." (On this sheet, on this sheet are written the answers to the questions: why one has memory, memory, memory ...). Actually, these two questions are not just two questions, but two different questions. One question is when I first saw this light, when I first saw my mother, my father. It is the memory of birth, I remember my first sensations and actions, how I began to breathe, how I began to smile. It is the memory of the moment when I first saw the world around me. And the other is the question of when I began to say something, when I began to understand what I should say to my mother and what I should say to my father. It is the memory of the moment when I learned to speak; when I began to understand the world around me. It may have been the same day, just one way. Which way? And so these two questions make the same sense to me. They don't sound so easy, because every time you start talking, you realize at the same time that you're doing it for someone, for Mom. But it's not just for mom. It's also for others at the same time, like Dad. Now, what is Daddy? Dad for me, it's my daddy first and foremost. I remember, I'm many months and many years old now. I remember him bathing my brother and me in the tub when we were little, I remember him teaching us to swim, him sledding us. I remember all of that. But he always told me, not just me, but everybody, that he had no right, that he couldn't be a father. He always had to be at work, and he was. And then my mother got sick, she had cancer. She held on for a long time, I was a kid, I don't remember what it was like, I just remember she was sick and I remember burying her. Then
